MANAGER'S COMMENTS

The FBMKLCI ended the month of June with a negative note at 1,532.63, a drop by 3.22% MoM lower. The top 3 performing sectors were Transport & Logistics at 5.66% MoM, REIT at 2.65% MoM and Financial Services at 0.59% MoM. While Healthcare, Plantation and Property were among the worst performing sectors at -10.56% MoM, -6.35% MoM and -3.54% MoM respectively.

For the month of June, the equities market in developed countries has started rising steadily as many countries continue to reopen their economy in stages. This was the result of strong vaccination campaigns, and support from consumer spending. Malaysia on the other hand has been lagging behind due to some idiosyncrasies. Despite numerous iterations of MCO Malaysia is still recording persistently high positive covid cases notably from the new Delta variant. This combined with the political uncertainty due to the Kings verdict to discontinue extending the State of Emergency to which the Parliament would have to reconvene, have driven market sentiment down. The relatively lower trading volume is another evidence of that, further aggravating the situation; a double whammy indeed.

All in all, we expect to see some sideway movements in the meantime as Malaysia continues to combat and curb the Covid-19 situation. As Vaccinations rollouts pick up the pace and Malaysia weathers through the full lockdown, we expect to see the number of Covid-19 cases to fall; resulting in the reopening of the economy once again. This will allow us to capitalize on stocks benefitting from the reopening of the economy. We remain positive on the longer term as prospects are looking good due to the anticipation of global economic recovery.

DISCLAIMER: Based on the fund's portfolio returns as at 30 June 2021, The Volatility Factor (VF) for this fund is 19.78 and is classified as "Very High" (source: Lipper).
